TAKE YOUR BUSINESS FURTHER BY UPSKILLING AND TRADE QUALIFYING YOUR EMPLOYEES

4 SIMPLE STEPS

Our Industry Engagement Advisor will arrange to visit you at your business at a time that suits you to conduct the sign up.

Trainer completes the first initial assessment, which helps identify the previous skills and knowledge of your employees.

We work with your employees one on one at your business to fill in any knowledge gaps and develop additional skills.

Employee receives a nationally recognised qualification on successful completion of their qualification.

USER CHOICE MEANS BETTER BUSINESS!*

Apprenticeships combine both structured and workplace training with paid employment.

Apprenticeships can be full- time, part-time, or school-based. Apprenticeships are practiced under competency based training (CBT) which places emphasis on the workplace application of attained knowledge and skills. CBT allows apprentices to move through their apprenticeship efficiently while maintaining an emphasis on quality of work. The time it takes the apprentice to complete their apprenticeship depend on how quickly they learn.

HOW UPSKILLING AND TRADE QUALIFYING YOUR EMPLOYEES WILL BENEFIT YOUR BUSINESS

- No need to send staff away, all our training is conducted onsite at your business meaning minimal downtime to your business

WHO WE ARE

We are designers and developers of training programs that work for you. Quality Training Group works with clients to meet their individual needs. We pride ourselves on teaching what is important to you. We familiarise ourselves with your policies and procedures and build them into our training to ensure that our training encompasses your core values.

Our industry expert Trainer's know their individual case load of students, employers, workplaces and working history - hence our training is customised for the individual. Here at QTG, we pride ourselves on teaching what is important to workers, employers and the industry. Our trainers conduct a monthly onsite visit with each student, hence they are not required to attend classroom training that is irrelevant. Training is conducted on the job-site with the individual. This creates better outcomes for workers and employers as students are equipped for their workplace and down time is drastically reduced.

We celebrate the pursuit of lifelong learning and are committed to nurturing high self-esteem and respect for others. We believe that everyone can learn to become better thinkers and independent leaders in their field.
